

MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 3, 1903.

SENATOR GORMAN, of Maryland, returned on Saturday evening from his European trip and in interviews with a number of newspaper correspondents freely and gave his views on several important questions. Among other things he said:

"The party is gradually drawing away from the false ideas it seems to have been following for the last few years, and I think it will have returned to the true Jeffersonian principles before the meeting of the next national convention. The leading issues of the democracy next year will be reformation of the tariff and a system of taxation economy, and honesty."

Mr. Gorman is a wise and discerning man. He knows that the democratic party has won only twice in forty odd years and that on these two occasions the main question at issue was the tariff revision. What has been done, can be done again. With Mr. Gorman at the head of their ticket and standing on a platform as set forth in his interviews mentioned above, the democrats could sweep the country.

COL. G. W. MILES, of Radford, as heretofore stated, has withdrawn as a candidate for the presidency of the University of Virginia. In doing so he has published a pamphlet in which he denounces the mismanagement of the institution, accuses the members of the faculty of malice, falsehood, drunkenness, &c. What Col. Miles says may or may not be true, but for his own reputation it would have been better for him to have preferred his charges before he discovered that it was impossible for him to secure the position of president of the university. The trades of defeated candidates are given scant consideration now-a-days, and Col. Miles' pamphlet proves conclusively that he is a rule-or-ruin man, and not the proper person to be at the head of the chief institution of learning in Virginia. The law providing for the election of a president of the university should never have been enacted, and the sooner the legislature repeals it the better it will be for all concerned.

THE CO-EDUCATION plan is being shown to be a failure and now those who were once its most ardent supporters are seeing their mistake. An address at the recent educational meeting at Boston, which is creating wide discussion in the daily, as well as the educational press of the country, was that of President G. Stanley Hall, of Clark University, in which he took a positive stand against the co-education of boys and girls in their teens. His conclusion was that this association caused sexual precocity in the girls, tending to overwork of the brain and a diminution of interest in motherhood. In the boys he thought the effect was dissipation through familiarity among the sexes, and that this weakened the motive for marrying. He believed this explained the growing tendency toward late marriages in this country. He would have education planned so as to make women more womanly and men more manly. Dr. Hall used to be an advocate of the system which he now condemns.

A DISPATCH published in Saturday's Gazette from Chicago stated that an alarming shrinkage in values of industrial plants and stocks is shown by returns of the Cook county board of review and that the depreciation in 90 per cent of the cases is due to strikes and industrial agitation. It is stated that not less than one hundred corporations, whose assets and stocks aggregate many millions, have filed statements in the assessors' offices setting forth that these causes have depreciated actual values and practically destroyed speculative values. Such a state of affairs is to be deplored and is bound to react upon those who cause the trouble. When men who invest their money in industrial enterprises see that their property is to be rendered valueless by reason of strikes and labor agitations they will cease engaging in such enterprises and put their money elsewhere.

THE REVISED accounts of the expenses incurred by the State in calling the militia to Richmond to suppress the riots incident to the recent street car strike show the total amount to be about $66,000. This is a pretty big sum to take out of a depleted treasury. It will be borne in mind that nobody was benefited by the strike.

THE TOTAL amount of the claims of the persons listed as revolutionary soldiers and as civilians entitled to pay for services rendered during the recent revolution in Cuba is $51,589,000. And these claimants are the "patriots" who professed to fight to "free" Cuba! What a travesty upon patriotism!

It is announced in Philadelphia that the shipping trust will be dissolved in a short time. There will be less heard of ship subsidies.

THE RUDENESS of a man who insulted the President and his family at Oyster Bay yesterday merits the censure of all well-disposed people no matter in what political camp they may belong. There are many in this world who are devoid of genius or anything else calculated to bring them to the front and who are base enough to resort to any mean act in order to attract notice. There is no excuse for the individual who showed his lack of gentlemanly instinct by insulting the chief executive of the nation while on his way to church with his family.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
Senator Martin, who has been here for several days attending the departmental business for his constituents, will leave the city today for his home in Albemarle county, Virginia. No member of the upper branch of Congress works more diligently on public business than does Senator Martin, who enjoys the reputation of being one of the most efficient representatives Virginia has sent to the capital in the last half century.

The printing office at 517 Tenth street northwest, known as the News office, was sold at public auction by order of the receiver this morning. The auctioneer tried to sell it for $100,000, but there was not a bidder. Then the concern was sold piecemeal and did not bring $300. This publication, it is said, cost Watson, the District clerk now in jail for embezzlement, thousands of dollars.

The monthly report of the chief of the bureau of statistics of the Department of Agriculture, issued today, shows the average condition of cotton on July 25 to have been 79.5 as compared with 77.1 on June 25, 1903; 81.9 on July 25, 1902; 77.2 on July 25, 1901, a ten year average of 84.3.

Colonel Allen has asked for $400,000 for the improvement of the Washington channel and the Potomac flats.

FIGHTING IN MACEDONIA.—Isolated conflicts continue to occur in Macedonia. Last Friday a Turkish patrol which was pursuing the authors of a dynamite outrage fell into an ambush laid by the Bulgarians near Drama, which is close to the famous plain of Philippi, where Brutus and Cassius were defeated, and seven Turks and three Bulgarians were killed. The Porte, however, announces, that before long the 40,000 troops now in Macedonia will be disbanded. It is stated that as a result of inquiry by Austrian and Russian consuls into the recent events at Salonica, Austria and Russia will demand the dismissal of the chief of police of Salonica. Reports from Armenia tell of rather serious disturbances similar to those which preceded the trouble of 1894. Several conflicts have occurred between Turks and armed Kurds on one side and Armenians on the other, resulting in losses on both sides.

CUT-OFF ARM IN HIS HAND.—More than 100 persons awaiting an excursion train at Welch, on the Norfolk and Western railroad at Huntington, W. Va., yesterday morning were horrified to see Tony Cassino, an Italian contractor, come walking up the railroad track to the station with his right arm severed at the shoulder. In his left hand he was carrying the severed member, grasping it as though it was a walking stick. Cassino had fallen beneath a freight train two miles west and a wheel had passed over his arm and cut it off. He picked up the lost arm and carried it with him to Welch, that point being the residence of the nearest physician. His body was covered with blood, but he refused a stimulant when he reached the doctor's office and received medical attention.

HEAD-ON COLLISION.—A dispatch from Somerset, Ky., says: Through a misunderstanding of orders to Queen and Crescent freight trains, both double-headed, collided, head on, Saturday at midnight, between Cumberland Falls and Greenwood, killing six men and seriously injuring two others. The bodies of fireman Joseph Phillips, Frank Fletcher and Walter Walters and an unknown man, who was stealing a ride were recovered. The dead bodies of the two brakemen whose names were not learned are known to be buried under the debris, where 40 cars were wrecked. Engineers Duke and Fitzgerald were seriously injured. Duke was killed. Engineers Klein and Hainsworth both escaped by jumping, as did the rest of the trainmen.

THREE MEN KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—The pleasure yacht Florodora was struck by lightning yesterday off the wharf at Point Clair, Baldwin county, Ala., a resort in Mobile Bay, killing three men. The dead are Ledyard Scott, formerly professor in the Imperial University at Kagasaki, Japan; Bruce Granville Lincoln, a wealthy young Englishman visiting Mobile in connection with some investments, and William Brewster, pilot of the yacht. Mr. Scott died instantly and the others did not recover consciousness after being struck. Mr. Scott's young daughter and Charles Baldwin, engineer, were burned badly by the bolt, but were not fatally injured.

FATAL RESULT OF A DUEL.—Information has been received at Lexington, Va., of a tragedy that occurred on Pedder River, in Amherst county, just across the mountain from Clark's Mill, on Irish Creek, Rockbridge county. An old grudge had existed for some time between Paul Painter and Frank Cash. On meeting, a quarrel ensued, when Cash shot Painter with a Winchester rifle. Painter then shot Cash with a shotgun, tearing his head nearly off and killing him instantly. Painter cannot live.

District officers of the United Mine Workers have notified the five hundred men and boys of the Red Ash Coal Company, at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who have been on a strike for ten days, that they will not receive the support of the organization. The men struck because the superintendent refused to reinstate a driver whom he discharged for cause.

A journalist of Peking named Shen Chien was executed there on Saturday. According to the official report of the execution, Chien was beheaded, but it became known that this report was false, and that the condemned man was beaten to death in accordance with special instructions issued by the Dowager Empress, who desired to make an example of the journalist with which to terrify other reformers. The victim had advocated reforms and for this he was condemned to death, and as an object lesson it was decreed he should be tortured.

Sofia Krawczewicz, the pretty young Polish immigrant who journeyed to America on the steamship Chemnitz by means of a fund supplied by five Polish residents in Baltimore, who had become enthused over a description of her beauty and who had decided to bring her to America and then let her choose her future husband from among them, was married on the immigration pier on Saturday. Strange to say no one of the anxious five played the role of groom, and the man who had so ably described her as to cause his friends to raise the funds carried off the prize.

MOB AFTER A NEGRO.—An attempt was made to lynch a negro, named Bert Hazelock, in the quiet old city of Albany, N. Y., yesterday afternoon, but the intended victim was protected by an officer with a drawn revolver. The affair developed from a street brawl and the extent of the negro's injuries is an arm shattered with a paving stone. Two negroes fighting caused it all. A white man, named John Scharf, tried to separate them, whereupon he was attacked by Hazelock, who drew a razor and slashed the man in the back. A crowd of some 50 white men attracted by the brawl made a rush for the negro, who had taken Third street, where the affair had taken place. Cries of "lynch the nigger" were heard. One stone, which was thrown by one of the mob, struck him on the arm, shattering it and felling him to the ground. Trembling with fear the negro regained his feet and continued his flight, followed by the crowd, which had grown to 200. He ran into a house on Second avenue, near Swan street, frightening the women occupants and bolting the door to save himself. The crowd had surrounded the house when Officer John Begley arrived. He went into the building to arrest Hazelock. Begley drew his revolver and kept the crowd at bay until the arrival of several other officers, who escorted the negro to the station house, where he was locked up.

CLOUDBURST IN KANSAS.—A cloudburst which occurred yesterday flooded the lowlands and valleys from a point near Hindsburg northwest to Ellsworth, Kansas doing much damage. The valley northwest from Hindsburg is all under water, and at Carnerio, Brookville, and Bavaria the water is from one to two feet deeper than during the recent flood. At Carnerio the streets were flooded, and the water reached the platform of the Union Pacific depot. Residences in the lower part of the town are from one to three feet under water. Twelve miles of the Union Pacific track west of Brookville was swept off the roadbed, and the Union Pacific passenger train due at Salina at midnight Saturday night arrived at noon yesterday, having come over the Missouri Pacific tracks from Ellsworth. The storm caught the train at Arcola, east of Ellsworth, and for part of the way back to Ellsworth the passengers got out and assisted in the work of cribbing the track. Much damage to crops will result.

County officers are constantly on duty at night guarding the trestle on the Seven Pines Railroad not far from Richmond against any possible designs by murderous strike sympathizers. Indications have been discovered that some attempt to destroy the bridge was in contemplation.

COL. MILES WITHDRAWS.—Col. George W. Miles, of Radford, is out in a pamphlet bitterly attacking the faculty of the University of Virginia for preventing his election as president of the university. He reviews the whole movement for the election of a president for the institution, and accuses the members of the faculty collectively and individually of malice, falsehood, evasion, and in some cases, of drunkenness. He withdraws his name from consideration for the position of president of the university, and denounces the mismanagement, which he says has prevailed there for some time. Colonel Miles' comments and reviews are printed in a pamphlet of 22 pages addressed "to the people of Virginia." He quotes letters from members of the Board of Visitors to show that his election has been prevented by the feeling that it would prolong ill-feeling because of the bitter opposition to him of the faculty and student body and part of the alumni.

SENATOR GORMAN.

Senator Gorman arrived at New York on Saturday evening from Europe and reached his home at Laurel, Md., yesterday evening. The New York newspapers of yesterday all gave a prominent position and much display to the news of Senator Gorman's homecoming and made a decided feature out of the interview he gave to the reporters on Saturday afternoon just before the liner New York docked and landed her passengers. The Herald, in handling the story, publishes the Senator's pictures and in glowing type proclaims, "Senator Gorman comes home to find he has a Presidential boom." Beside the interview, the Herald publishes an exhaustive article on the present condition of the democratic party and Senator Gorman's position, expressing the belief that the dominating factor in the situation as it now stands. The Times, Tribune, Sun and other papers of the metropolis all attach great importance to the Marylander's declaration, especially to those expressions relating to the race question, the postoffice frauds, the issues to be advocated by the democratic next year and his own prospects for the nomination. The same thing is true of the Philadelphia newspapers, which last night ordered from their New York correspondents exhaustive stories on Gorman, to be sent by wire and to be supplemented by mail with still more exhaustive matter for publication today.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Conclave Still in Session.

Rome, Aug. 3.—The cardinals who are in conclave at the Vatican for the purpose of electing a successor to Pope Leo took two more ballots today but a selection was not made, as no cardinal received the necessary two-thirds of all the votes cast. The conclave has now been in session since Saturday morning and so far six ballots have been taken. A report gained circulation yesterday that the world this morning would know the name of Pope Leo's successor. Early this morning a crowd gathered in front of St. Peter's and the stove-pipe projecting out of the roof of the Sistine Chapel was eagerly watched. To the disappointment of everybody smoke was seen to issue from the pipe at 11:30. This, of course, indicated that the fifth ballot had been without result. The crowd again assembled in front of St. Peter's this afternoon and again all eyes were riveted upon the pipe. At 6:22 p. m. their curiosity was appeased for a puff of smoke ascended heavenward and the crowd dispersed. The sixth ballot had also been without result.

Rome, Aug. 3.—The Cardinals who are in conclave for the purpose of electing a successor to Pope Leo took their fifth ballot this morning with no result. At 11:30 smoke was seen coming out of the stove-pipe over the Sistine chapel which indicated that no selection had yet been made and the crowd hastily dispersed. It is believed that the chances of the leading candidates are now completely gone and that the votes are being scattered among outsiders. Meanwhile the heads of the various congregations and the bureaux of the church are locked upon the conclave and all business at the Vatican is at a standstill. Further prolongation of the conclave will have a disastrous effect upon many departments of Catholic activity.

At 6:10 o'clock this evening the crowd around St. Peter's square was enormous and nearly equalled that of last night. It was estimated that there was 15,000 persons in the assemblage and more are constantly streaming in.

Rome, Aug. 3.—Cardinal Joseph Mary Martin de Herrera of La Iglesia, Cardinal of Spain, is dying in the Conclave. The final rites of the church have been administered to him. He is eighty years of age.

Bloody Onslaught.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Forty-two men under arrest, two of them with terrible wounds, is the result of a furious onslaught by a gang of Italians upon the scoopers of the Niagara Elevator Company this morning. The affray occurred at 7:30 o'clock in Ohio street and was between 200 Italians and a score or more of the employees of the Niagara Elevator Company. Just how the trouble started is unknown and it is asserted by some witnesses that the Italians commenced the attack without provocation. On the other hand, it is claimed that a number of grain scoopers who were lounging near the elevator called "scab" to the Italians.

The latter were marching in a body 200 strong, along Ohio street, and it is presumed that they were headed for the Buffalo Union Furnace Works. Whatever the provocation, instead of showing timidity, the Italians, drawing pistols and knives, rushed at the scoopers. The scoopers numbered about 25 and for a moment with sticks and stones they attempted to hold their own, but the crowd coming against them was too strong. Backed as it was by numbers and firearms and knives, it swept the scoopers before it. In a whirlwind of frantic rage, the Italians cut and thrust and kept up a fusillade with their revolvers, the scoopers meantime being forced to seek shelter in the elevator, in and under freight cars and behind buildings. Scores of windows were broken and how seriously some of them injured is not known. The Italians scattered at sight of a detachment of policemen.

The Powers Trial.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 3.—The commonwealth is ready to give Caleb Powers a third trial for his life for the assassination of Governor Goebel, said commonwealth's attorney Franklin, when he arrived here from Frankfort this morning, "and I will insist that it be gone into at this special term." The attorneys for Powers are in conference with him at the jail this morning, and are now ready to say what they will do. They may ask a continuance to the regular October term of court. It is thought Judge Robbins will overrule any such motion. A host of witnesses came in last night and this morning. Among them is Frank Cecil, of Bell county, the star witness in the last Jim Howard trial. He now hails from Oskaloosa, Kas., at least that is where he registers from. Powers has been tried twice on the charge of complicity in the assassination of Goebel and was twice sentenced to life imprisonment.

The special term of the Scott County Court was called to order at 1 o'clock. The commonwealth called about fifty witnesses in the Powers case, over half of whom answered, and Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin answered ready for trial. The defense withdrew for a conference. Among the defense witnesses are about thirty who have never taken the stand before in the case. Fully a dozen of them were defense witnesses in the last trial of Jim Howard, who was given a life sentence for alleged complicity in the Goebel murder.

Kaiser's Yacht Wins Prize.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Aug. 3.—The annual regatta of the Royal Yacht Club began here today and racing will be continued throughout the week. Society is well represented and includes King Edward and Queen Alexandra, who arrived here last evening on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The weather was perfect for racing today and a strong breeze from the west prevailed. In the schooner class, which was the first sent away, Emperor William's American built yacht Meteor won the race, which was for a prize valued at 110 guineas.

Accused of Accepting Bribes.

Vienna, Aug. 3.—The resignation of Premier Kuhn-Hedervary and the Hungarian Cabinet is imminent, owing to the scandal growing out of the charges of bribery in connection with the passage of the indemnity bill, a measure amending the taxation laws. There is universal indignation against Count Czapsky and the boudiers. When Count Czapsky appeared before the commission which was appointed to investigate the charges of bribery he refused to answer a number of questions, which created a bad impression.

Death the Cost of Bather's Dare.

Atlantic City, Aug. 3.—Daring two companions to follow him, Gustaf Dudley, a cigarmaker, who lived at Eighteenth and Bainbridge streets, Philadelphia, met death in the surf here yesterday morning. He did not drown but died almost instantly of heart disease or some other organic trouble. Dudley was the seventh death to occur in the water here this season. With Louis Lesieur and another friend, Dudley came to Atlantic City on a newspaper train yesterday morning. They went at once to the beach and were soon in the surf. All were good swimmers. "Come on, boys," said Dudley as he led the way out. Follow me," he said to the companions of the cigarmaker did not do so. "I dare you," Dudley called to the others they heard Dudley a few moments later they saw him sink. His body was washed ashore twenty minutes later. Futile efforts had been made to find it while under water. A physician who examined the body is inclined to believe that death was due to heart disease, as no water was in the lungs, which would have been the case had death resulted from drowning.

The Jett Trial.

Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 3.—W. H. Blanton, county attorney of Breathitt county, stated in the Jett trial today that he had a conversation with Ewen the day after the shooting and Ewen told him that to the best of his knowledge he knew who fired the shots. H. Hurst, assistant postmaster, testified that he was in the postoffice at the time the shots were fired. He went to Marcum and examined his wounds and helped to carry the body away. He saw Jett in the court house yard at the time Attorney Byrd announced that he had three more witnesses he would like to have heard, but they are not here. After a delay of a few minutes, Byrd stated that the commonwealth had finished. Court adjourned at 10:15 for the purpose of permitting the counsel for the defense to consult with their clients, Jett and White. Court will convene again this evening.

Struck Down by Thief.

New York, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Ketcham, wife of Congressman John Henry Ketcham, who represents the 21st district of this State, composed of Columbia, Dutchess, Greene and Putnam counties, was struck down by a thief in her son Charles's apartments, 314 West 82nd street on Saturday and seriously hurt. The weapon used was a poker and her collar-bone was broken, her head badly gashed and she received numerous contusions about the head and neck. The thief also tried to choke her to death by knotting a handkerchief about her throat. He secured but $5 in cash and some jewelry, being frightened away before he could ransack the house. A missing hall boy, formerly employed in the apartment house, is accused by the police.

The Industrial War in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 3.—The printers yesterday afternoon adopted resolutions warning the citizens' alliance not to go too far with their threats against organized labor. This is regarded as the first gun in a fight that will involve the entire State in an industrial war that has never had an equal in Colorado. The printers, who have been the balance wheel of the wage-workers in this State, say that if the lawless acts of the citizens' alliance of Idaho Springs is to be commended then all law is at an end and a state of anarchy has been substituted. Under these conditions they see no cheerful outlook for labor to ask for an immediate settlement of all grievances.

National Relief Organization.

Oxford, Mass., Aug. 3.—Miss Clara Barton announces that she has formulated a plan for a great national relief organization, with branches in every city and town in the United States, to be provided with a national fund ready for use when calamity overtakes the country. She proposes that the fund be under the control of a finance committee of men of national reputation and that the organization be known as the National Society of Relief. Miss Barton says she has already been given assurances of assistance by many leading citizens in several States. Branch Number 1 of the new organization has been established in this, the native town of Miss Barton.

Murder and Suicide.

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 3.—The bodies of F. P. Egan and Mrs. Sadie Booth, both of Spencer, were found with their throats cut, lying in the front yard of T. Sawyer's house last night. Mrs. Booth was 23 years of age and it is said her husband lives in Spencer. The theory of the police is that the man cut the woman's throat, then slashed himself with the razor. Egan was known as a travelling shoemaker who had worked in Spencer. Mrs. Booth has been separated from her husband for a number of years.

Would-be Bridegroom Fell Dead.

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 3.—Wm. Cohen, white, walked into the circuit clerk's office today with a colored woman by his side, and requested a marriage license, stating that he had not the money to pay down, but that he would settle later. On being refused the document, Cohen started from the clerk's office, but before he had got out of the room fell dead. Physicians say his death was due to neuralgia of the heart.

The Saratoga Handicap.

No Coal Strike This Year.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 3.—High officials of the United Mine Workers state that though there may be serious trouble at the meeting of the Conciliation Board here next Thursday, there will be no general anthracite strike before the Presidential campaign if then. The miners are becoming very impatient over the apparent inability of the Conciliation Board to settle the differences that exist, but they realize that even if the questions now pending fail of solution this is not a good time to strike. During a Presidential year, according to their expectations, political complications will make victory for the miners a certainty, in the event of a general strike.

Though no general strike seems in prospect, the big coal companies have begun to store the smaller sizes of anthracite. Officials of the Reading Company say that the amount of coal mined this summer will break all records.
